

CAMPAIGN OPENING.

Republicans of Hopkins County at Madisonville October 4.

JUDGE HOLT AND CAPT. THROCKMORTON.

Large Gathering of Republicans Expected.

Next Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, the Republicans of Hopkins county will meet at the Throckmorton in Madisonville to open formally the campaign in Hopkins county and hear Judge W. H. Holt, probably the ablest and most conservative speaker in the field, and Capt. J. W. Throckmorton, Republican nominee for Commissioner of Agriculture, who, it is said, also brings to the people a strong message.

Every Republican in the county who can so arrange should be in Madisonville in the daytime, even at the expense of traveling, to be present at this meeting. A rare treat is in store for all who can hear these gentlemen.

SCRAMBLE FOR A CROWD.

Funny Pulls When Two Kinds of Democrats Spoke.

The contest for the crowd was amusing at Madisonville Monday. The Brown Democrats had their speaking at the court house. The Green Democrats had their speaking at the hotel. There was a large number of people in town as usual on Monday.

It was near speaking time and the Green Democrats brought out the brass band and put it to work almost in the shadow of the court house. The Green Democrats had the band play the Star Spangled Banner. There was a large number of people in town as usual on Monday. Blue and Gray Reunion.

The following announcement has been sent out by the committee in charge of the National Reunion of the Blue and the Gray, at Evansville, Ind., Oct. 10-13, 1899:

President McKinley said: "Every soldier's grave made during the unfortunate civil war is a tribute to American valor." As Americans we are sensibly affected through the dead. To honor our veterans, heroes, and patriots, we have decided to hold a National Reunion of the Blue and the Gray to be held in Evansville, Ind., October 10-13, 1899. We cordially invite all who were in the war to attend a National Reunion of the Blue and the Gray to be held in Evansville, Ind., October 10-13, 1899. A Grand Truth.

An old writer expressed the opinion that every good deed done on earth is recorded in heaven, where it remains as capital for the good man. If that opinion be correct, what proportion of the membership of the various churches have a capital in the heavenly kingdom, ready to be called in at the last day. How else can we lay up treasures in heaven, than by good deeds done to those about us. Our day is passing, and as we have done it unto the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me." Again he says: "He that gives a cup of cold water to a disciple, in the name of a disciple, shall not lose his reward." These acts appear small to men, but they mean much in heaven.

Card of Thanks.

Next Sunday ends my pastorate at the M. E. Church, South, at this place. I desire to express my warmest thanks to the members of my church, and the many other friends who have so nobly stood by me, and have shown me so many kind words. Whether I am returned or not, I shall always hold the good people of Earlinton in loving and grateful remembrance.

Raised a Racket.

A gentleman of color who hails from Hopkinsville, got his anger stirred up Monday night and proceeded to hunt for his wife, who cooks at Lee Cozart's restaurant, in order that he might be enabled to get together for the many wrongs done him. He found her at Lee Cozart's and proceeded to "cuss" her in a bad style. After he had exhausted all his energy, he was taken to the hospital. He was there for several days, and was finally discharged. He is now in a bad way, and is unable to work.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to extend to neighbors and friends our sincere thanks for their many acts of kindness during the illness, death and interment of our little daughter, and especially to Doctor Chatham who offered his heartiest thanks for his untiring efforts in behalf of the little sufferer. Those expressions of sympathy and assistance will be remembered with pleasure and gratitude while life endures. Mr. and Mrs. WALTER WRIGHT.

DEWEY FILCHED A MARCH.

The Olympia Slipped Into New York Harbor Two Days Ahead of Schedule.

SEE IS ANCHORED INSIDE SANDY HOOK.

New York Committee Plans Some-what Disastrous Party.

There was a heavy mist on the sea, and at first the marine observers were inclined to think the vessel sighted might be Rear-Admiral Howison's flagship, the Chicago, hardly believing Dewey would arrive two days ahead of time. The mist was cleared away, however, and as passing vessels recognized the flag ship from Manila bay there was a continuous blowing of whistles in salute.

First to Sight the Olympia.

One of the first large vessels to sight the Olympia was the passenger steamer Sandy Hook, of the Sandy Hook line, which left Atlantic Highlands shortly after seven o'clock for New York dock. Just as she got well through the fog, and passengers and crew, headed by the Sandy Hook's captain, gathered at the rail to send the newcomer's name. To get near enough to do this the Sandy Hook changed her course and headed directly for the Olympia, blowing her whistle in salute.

Exchanged Greetings.

As soon as the name was made out the Sandy Hook's passengers cheered with all their might, and in a few moments an answering cheer came over the water from the warship's sailors, many of whom were gathered on the deck.

Anchored Inside the Hook.

The flagship came up to the lower bay and anchored inside Sandy Hook. As soon as the anchor was dropped, an orderly was sent ashore with dispatches from the admiral and other officers. He said the ship had had a pleasant trip across the Atlantic and that all on board were well and glad to be home again.

The Olympia's crew were put to work immediately cleaning ship.

City Authorities Meet.

The admiral's early arrival was a matter of great concern to the city authorities, who are arranging for New York's official welcome. Secretary Foster of the reception committee, who had been called to the city by a special meeting of the committee, Mr. Foster did not forecast the committee's action, but he thought it probable that the committee would go down to the Olympia in the afternoon and meet the admiral.

Mayor Van Wyck Notified.

Mayor Van Wyck hurried to his office, where he found the following telegram: "Olympia arrived this morning. Will go to Tompkinsville to-morrow. 'GEORGE DEWEY.'"

The mayor advised the calling together of all the city's committees, and telegrams were sent out calling on the members of the committee and the various sub-committees to meet as quickly as possible at the city hall.

Navy Department Notified.

Washington, Sept. 27.—The following has been received at the navy department: "Sandy Hook, N. J., Sept. 26.—Secretary Navy, Washington: Olympia will go to Tompkinsville to-morrow. DEWEY."

Judge Tutthill declared to the labor leaders that the old soldiers would defray the cost of getting a new stone, and would use their influence in settling existing differences between contractor Pierce and the trades union men. SILENCED A KRUPP BATTERY.

Further Particulars of the Engagement at Subig Bay—Captured a Sixteen Centimeter Gun.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Acting Secretary Allen of the navy department received a cablegram from Rear-Admiral Watson yesterday giving a brief account of the engagement at Subig bay. It is dated September 24, at Manila, and is as follows:

Manila, Sept. 24.—The United States cruiser Charleston, the monitor Monterey and the gunboats Concord and Zafiro, with marines and blue jackets from the cruiser Baltimore, left Cavite September 13, and, as already cabled, proceeded to Subig bay to destroy the insurgent cannon there.

Owing to the bad weather the operation was postponed until yesterday, when the war ships for three hours bombarded the town of Olanguapo and the fortifications where the gun was situated.

Men from the Charleston, Concord and Zafiro were then landed under a heavy insurgent fire, proceeding to the cannon which was utterly destroyed by gun cotton, and then returning to the ships.

The Americans had one man wounded during the engagement.

Cadet Brimer, with the Concord's launch, armed with a gatling, did excellent work on the left of the landing party. Capt. Myers of the marines, captured a muzzle-loading field piece. Lieut. McDonald was in command of the landing party, and the movement was splendidly executed and controlled.
